CHAPTER XX.-A NEW LODGER.

The long vacation saunters on toward terminated like was like river very leisurely strolling down a fact country to the sea. Mr. Guppy saunters may sell the sea from the black of his penkulte, and hoke the point the black of his penkulte, and hoke the point the black of his penkulte, and though the black in overy direction. Not that he bears the desk any till will, but he must do something; and it must ill will, but he must do something; and it must be something of an unexciting nature. He finds the season one leg of his stool, and stab his deak, and gape.

Except and Garboy are not of town, and the article deak has taken out a shooting license; and season down to his father's, and Mr. Guppy's two grown down to his father's, and Mr. Guppy's two grown down to his father's, and Mr. Guppy's two grown down to his father's, and Mr. Guppy's two grown down to his father's, and Mr. Guppy's two grown down to his father's, and Mr. Guppy's two grown down to his father's, and Mr. Guppy's two grown down to his father's for our, whereat. Mr. Guppy shafes. So exceedingly, that he with his ting sarcann informs his mother, in the confidential moments when he sups with her offar lobster and heat office is bardly good enough for swell, and hat if he had known these was a swell-coming, he would have gut it painted.

Mr. Guppy suspects everybedy who entered the first learner of Carboy's Carboy's supported the control of the complete of Carboy's Carboy's supported the control of Carboy's Carboy's supported the control of Carboy's supported the control of Carboy's control and the office is bearly good enough for swell, and factory and the tile in the first part of the control of the control and that if he had known there was a swell-coming, he would have got it painted.

Mr. Guppy suspects everybody who enters onthe occupation of a steol in Kenge and Carboy's coffee, of entertaining, as a matter of course, sininter designs upon him. If ever he be asked how when, or wherefore, he shots up one eye and white his head. On the strength of these profound views, he in the most ingenious manner takes infinite paints to counterplot, when there is no plot ; and plays the deepest games, of chess, non plot and plays the deepes games and provided any adversary.

It is a source of much gratification to Mr. Gupgy, therefore to find the new corner constantly faring over the papers in Jamdyes and Jamdyes, for he well knows that nothing but confusion can come of that. His "antifaction communicates itself to a third eaunterer through the long vocations and Carloy's office; to wit, Young mallwest.

Mr. Gappy has heen lolling out of window all the anoming, after trying all the stook in succession and finding more of them casy; and after several times putting his head into the iron safe with a notion of cooking it. Mr. Smallweed has been twice despatched for effervesion drinks, and has twice mixed them in the two official numblers and ractiones his head upon the window slill in a state of hopeless languor.

While thus looking out into the shade of Old Separe, Lincoln's Inn, sorveying the intolerable bricks and mortar, Mr. Guppy becomes conscious of a manly whisher emerging from the direction of his face. At the same time, a low whistle is wrafted through the Inn, and a suppressed voice cries. "Hip? Gup-py!"

During the short colloquy, the active Smallwood who is of the dinner party, has written in legal character, on a cip of paper, "Return Insendiately." This notification to all whom it may concern, he inserts in the letter box: and then purting on the tall hat, at the angle of inclination at which Mr. Guppy wears his, informs his patron that they may now make themselves scarce.

Accordingly they betake themselves scarce. Accordingly they betake themselves scarce. Having dining-home, of the class known among its frequenters by the denomination Slap-Bang, where the waitress, a bouncing—young female of forty, is supposed to have made some impression on the susceptible Smallweed: of whom it may be remarked that he is a weird changeling, to whom years me nothing. He stands precociously, possessed ef-contained of which wisdom. If he seem lay in a cradic, it seems as if he must have iain there in a tril-coat. Three marrow puddings being produced, Mr. Jobling adds, in a pleasant humor, that he is coming of age fest. To these succeed, by command for Mr. Smallweed, "three Cheshires:" and to those "three small rums." This apex of the entertainment happily reached, Mr. Jobling puts up his legs on the carpated seat (having his own side of the box to himself), leans against the wall, and says, "I am grown up, now, Guppy. I have arrived at maturity."

"What do you think, now," says Mr. Guppy, "about—you don't mind Smallweed?"

"Not the least in the world. I have the pleasure of drinking his good health."

"Sir, to you!" says Mr. Smallweed.

Under this appropriate title, the Morning News yesterday makes a labored appeal to Catholics and Adopted Citizens generally to vote against WINFIELD Scorr because of his alleged "Native Americanism." The News is right in styling its efforts "a bold push." It might have added "bra-zen," as well. Acting upon the opinion plumpiy expressed "that the ignorant foreigners can be led by any falschood," the News endeavors to palm off upon them a series of the most unblushing labrieations we remember to have seen in print. instance a few :

Gen. Scott's hostility to foreigners, his "approval of the Philadelphia movement"—his sneers at the great head of the Catholic Church, were upon record. Here are three distinct charges against Ge

But so long us it offers them falsehood for fact; so long as it addresses their prejudices and not their reason; so long as it continues "hand and glove" with that makes a jest of all religion, and bitterly revies its teachers and professors, the New appeals in vain to our Adopted Citizens, Protestant or Catholic, German or Irish, to lift its desperate cause and erew out of the mire into which their own acts have plunged them. It may indeed think, as it says, that "the ignorant foreigness can be led by any falsehood"; and so believing it may continue its efforts to deceive and delude them. But the Idea of November will teach it a salutary lesson and it will yet rue the day when it stooped to Red Republican, Infidel Agrarianism which makes a jest of all religion, and bitterly reviles and it will yet rue the day when it stooped to such dishonorable warfare and employed such

Country delights to honor-Winfield Scott!

Our friends of the democratic press very frenently famish involuntary "aid and comfort" to copying them : e Whig cause, by publishing articles such as we give below. The first one is a paragraph from an article which we find among the reading matter in the Wankesha Democrat, written by C. C. Burr, on the subject of the wrongs inflicted upon Ireland by British Policy.

England did rob Ireland. She did not, in the government of Ireland, racrely adopt a course of doubtful expediency, merely try experiments in government, but she deliberately, culmly, with the shameless malice of the devil, set herself to work to min Ireland. She began by crippling the commerce, by breaking up her manifactories extended to the devil, set herself to work to min Ireland. She began by crippling the commerce, by breaking up her manifactories (some storm of the manifactories of the same propriety of the same and crushing nearly every branch of mechanical industry, that she might drive all the raw material out of the country into her own manifactories at home.

We don't know that we have said anything

We don't know that we have said anything design. stronger than that, concerning the effects of British Free Trade upon Ireland. Just that same policy, England is trying to bring to bear upon us. She wishes to break up our manufactories o prevent as from "manufacturing glass and iron"—to "crush our mechanical industry"—to make seris of us—to do with us as she has done with Ireland. And she expects Intsumen to help her! They will not bo it! Here is another item, from a notice in the Madison Democrat, of the improvements in and about

Madison:

Passing homeward, upon the bank of the Lakewe noticed for the first time, the Oil Mill of Bon.
E. B. Dean & Co., near John Stoner's. It is built of brick, with good stone basement, and will soon be completed. We understand: the engine and other apparatus have been purchased, and will shortly be on the ground. Farmen, painters and builders will half this us a good onen. There is no teason in the world why we should not manufacture our own oil, instead of purchasing an imfacture our world in the ground state of the covernment of War, before your degrawith sunflower seed oil, at that:

Mr. Gidley is a plain; straight forward man, and told his hearers the United States Hotel, this (Thursday) even the Charles of the design of the Charles of the Charle painters, builders, &c., could be still furnished with the inferior British article, at a dear rate.-The Whig turiff of 1832 imposed a duty of 25c per gellon on Linseed oil. We have not the figures I the amount of oil imported in 1846, but in 1847 WHY LAM A WHIG, -In English, German and the amount imported was 720,000 gallons at a calnation of $355,000. The Loco Foce tariff of 1846 had cut down the duty to 20 per cent ad valorem, allowing the foreign manufacturer to in-voice his oil as low as he pleased. Now see how the imports increased in the following years. In 1849-50 we imported 1,163,347 gailons—in 1850-51 the amount was increased to 2,918,344 gallons. The demand for oil is very large in our country, yet the English, by the present tariff, can make a article "badly adulterated with sunflower oil." invoice it at next to nothing, and pour it in here in competition with our infant manufactures. We hope that the people of Dane County will have the good sense to practise whig doctrine by fur-chasing the better article, even if they do pay more Facts for Western Men.

The News endeavors to cajole the West into the support of Piracz and Kine on the ground that heretofore appropriations have been made for the Improvement of Rivers and Harbors "under Democratic Administrations." We urge precisely the same fact to show that the bogus Democracy of the present day is a very different thing from the Democracy of Jefferson and Jackson. It is undoubtedly true that under Gen. Jackson's Administration sundry River and Harbor Bills were passed by Congress and signed by "Old Hickory." And it is just as true that Mr. Pience, the so-called "young Hickory" voted against them all! If Gen. JACKSON were a candidate for reelection, the argument of the News would be appropriate and effective. But when it is urged in behalf of a man who opposed and roted against the very bills that Gen. Jackson signed, it has neither force, nor pertinence.

Let "Western men" look at the "facts!" They know that under Mr. Van Buren's administration the public works, on the Lakes, were stopped, and the Dredging Machines, Scows, Pile Drivers, &c., sacrificed for a song at auction. They know that under Polk's administration, River and Harbor bills were either pocketed, or verore. And they know that Franklin Pierce was nominated by the same influence, avows the same sentiments, and appropriation for the "Straight Cut." A. H. CORDES, C. H. WILLIAMS.

JUDICIAL ELECTION.—On Monday next the people of this State will be called upon to decide, at the ballot box, what men shall fill the Supreme Bench of this State. Before going to the polls, we trust every other will reflect upon the results to follow this election.—Waukesha Democrat.

This is all that our Waukesha contemporary has to say, on the subject of the Judicial election in his last paper. But the' brief, the paragraph is not without its significance. We too, trust that every elector in Wisconsin will go to the polls, on Monday next, as to the discharge of a high and convenient subject of members have been overhead, the walls paper that has been ceiled over head, the walls paper that has been ceiled over head, the walls paper that has been subjected to the Senute chamber has also been subjected to the Senute chamber ha efforment law. Bover, N. H., Montay, Sept. 6, 1852.

Mr Dana Sin: When I wrote to my friend G. G. Regg. Eag, of Concord, prior to the Pitteburgh Convention, declining in anticipation any nomination by that body, I sopposed that I should not have ensemion again to free; saw on the attention of any mass on the attention of the same that subject. The doction, which I then assessment was not only in accordance with my same laste and judgement, but was also in passessment of the attents and off-repeated request of those whose wheels left bound to respect, viz. may write and children.

I had supposed and hoped, after that letter was written, that the close of my present term of services in the Senste would close forever my political censer, and that the brief period which was to slepas hetween the persont and that event, might not he situation of the part of any friends to introduce my name into the conjusts and struggle of a prosedential election.

But the members of that Convention, with singular analymity, have judged differently. Such being the case, and the friends with whom I sympathise having determined that the great interests of Civil and Constitutional Liberty may be been promoted by a course different from that indicated her excellent in the property.

promoted by a course different from that indicated by myself, I have not felt at liberty, under the permiser circumstances of the occasion, to set up my own opinion in direct opposition to such an expression of my friends. I therefore yield my own wishes and opinions to those of my friends and thus assent to what has been done, notwithstanding my previous refusal to consent that it might be shote.

I was also to my to you, and through you to test pertion of the public who may feel any intermental the menter, that to inquiries which may be made of ma, as well as to those which have already been made, as to what my opinions are on made of me, as well as to those which have almost been made, as to what my opinions are on made, as to what my opinions are on made as the whole opinions are on made as the whole opinions are on answer to make. I suggest that those who nominated me, did it from a conviction of what I would do, founded on a hosewholes of what I would do, founded on a hosewholes of what I would do, founded on a hosewholes of what I would do, founded on a hosewholes of what I had done, rather than any pleases and promises for the future. But if I were ears so much disposed to enter the lists and contend with those who deal in promises and pleases, and professions of fidelity to make the smanderd of those made by men promises the same since forgotten and trampled upon by those who made them, in their hot house to convibed earliers a and principles, seven-fold more edious and absuminable than those against which they have received.

Eng is urged upon the people of Georgia on such grunnds as these:

"As did Mr. Jefferson always, is must we, of the peacent day, look to the Northern Democracy as to the Party if not of our 'natural' allies," yet of our friends. With the exception of some few honoutile and by me, honored gentlemen, the Whigs of the North are fixedly, and irreceverably, hostile to our institution of Southern Slavery. Against the torrent of familied energothment which I foresee must, of sometical energothment which I foresee must, of sometical energothment which I foresee must, of no very remote day, be poured upon as the same of the thousands of pure men of the Northern Democracy after our own configerous addication, for which we should stand over prespect, it was also defense."

We cap the tollowing items from the Osinkosh Democrat, relative to Menasha and the Road:

This village is taking a new and vigorous start alread. The Manitowoc and Menasha Plani: Road Company has prought here an immense stock of goods, and opened a store. Messis. Curtiss Reed and John Allen have contracted for a large pertion of the Road—18 miles—and will commence iromediately. This Road is a fixed fact, and will probably be completed in two years. This will add greatly to the business facilities of the place. See the announcement of the Plauk Road Store at Menasha. We stepped into the store while at Menasha, the other day, and we must say thist we were disappointed. We found a larger and more varied stock of goods, adapted to the wants of the country, than we expected to find.

At this end of the Road the work progresses well and rapidly. Mr. Von Vleck has entirely sempleted the grading through the swamp, and commenced laying the planish. Between three and four miles will be finished within ten days, and within a month the first gate will be eracted.
